Programme objectives

More generally, the programme also gives students key skills for their future careers: coherent and well-structured oral and written expression, the ability to retrieve and manage information, and language skills—which are a key aspect to finding a job. Students are regularly encouraged to read English documents, and a number of courses are taught in English.

Programme's added value

The Master in political science and specialized in international relations has been designed to provide students with a high-impact training as interesting as possible, but also designed to easily open the door to meaningful employment. At the ULB, the political science program specialized in international relations also profits from the pooling of a significant number of courses with the Institute of European Studies, one of the best in Europe, and with the Centre of International Law, of similar international renown.

Teaching methods

The Master in political science, specialized in international relations, combines a number of different teaching methods. Students are encouraged to follow courses but also seminars, and to compile and present personal projects linked with field research. The end-of-course dissertation enables students to actively apply the knowledge acquired in previous study years.

Succeed in your studies

Choose

The information and guidance counsellors at the InfOR-études [https://www.ulb.be/en/studies-info-desk-1] service will help you choose your studies throughout the year.

Succeed

Take part in preparatory courses [https://www.ulb.be/en/studies-info-desk-1] or get help to succeed [https://www.ulb.be/en/studies-info-desk-1] , before or during your studies.

Get help

Apply for financial aid, look for accommodation or a student job, get support [https://www.ulb.be/fr/aides-services-et-accompagnement/aid-services-and-support-1] for your specific needs.

International/Openness

There is a great tradition of student exchanges in political science, involving numerous universities in the European Union and Central European countries, as well as with North American universities (Canada, Quebec, USA).

Students can spend a term or a whole year abroad. For the students who have already been in an exchange programme at the bachelor level, they can also do an internship abroad (Erasmus placement).

The Faculty has also concluded new agreements for a joint master's degree in political science with LUISS in Rome.

Job opportunities

At the end of their studies at ULB in political science specialised in international relations, students will find themselves well equipped to take on a wide range of jobs in various sectors: European public administration, international careers, teaching and research, forecasting in the private sector (geopolitics, geostrategy, etc.), for instance in the banking and insurance sectors.

- Work at all levels in politics and social affairs (political parties, unions, employer organisations, lobbies) and political offices
- Civil service at the local, regional, national, and European level, international careers (diplomatic service, international institutions such as the UN, the OECD, or the Council of Europe)
- Supervising positions in the non-profit sector (registered charities, NGOs, humanitarian organisations, local communities/administrations)
- Work as analysts in the private sector (e.g. banking)
- Public relations and journalism (printed press, broadcasting): spokesperson, journalist, PR officer
